

No Cheating Policy and Declaration

No Cheating Policy

Students in Class Digital Speech Processing (ECE259):

Unauthorized access to class files related to future homework, homework solutions, future lectures and potential exam problems for the Digital Speech Processing Course is considered 'cheating' and will not be tolerated. In order to make sure that each and every one of you understand this "No Cheating Policy", I ask each of you to sign the 'no cheating' form (at the bottom of this note) in order to register for and remain in this class. Anyone not signing the form will not be allowed to register for and remain in this class.

I consider any form of cheating to be intolerable. You are getting a world-class education in order to learn how to solve problems and think for yourself. By unfairly and inappropriately gaining access to problem set solutions and potential exam problems and solutions, you are cheating yourself of the education that you were promised, and you are wasting valuable time and resources.

If I have evidence that any cheating is occurring, then I will take appropriate action and ask that the Graduate Office also take appropriate action.

Professor Lawrence Rabiner

No Cheating Declaration

To Professor Rabiner:

I have been informed of the 'No Cheating' policy as defined above. I affirm that, as of the date of this letter, I do not have in my possession nor will I make any attempt to gain unauthorized access to any files or printouts associated with:

1. problem sets that have not yet been posted to the official course website
2. problem set solutions that have not yet been posted to the official course website
3. lectures that have not yet been posted to the official course website
4. potential exam problems and solutions

I also affirm that, either:

1. If I ever had possession of any of the above materials and/or shared it with any other people, then I have retrieved all such material and disposed of it all (files deleted, printouts shredded). I have also informed any individuals with whom the material was shared as to the official 'No Cheating' policy of the class and of the appropriate actions they must take with regard to all such unauthorized material.

2. I have never had possession of such unauthorized materials nor have I ever given any of the above materials to any other students in the class or outside the class.

I agree to follow the spirit and the intent of the 'No Cheating' policy for this class.
